Have realistic expectations
Children aren’t all the same. They’re individuals with their own personalities. Even kids of the same age develop at different rates. So it’s important that you, as a parent, don’t expect more – or less – of your child than he or she is capable of doing. It’s also important to remember that nobody’s perfect. Not your kids and not you. If you expect your child will always be polite, happy or cooperative, you will be disappointed. Kids do make mistakes, but most mistakes aren’t intentional. It’s okay to let your child try and fail. And don’t forget to go easy on yourself, too. You probably want to be the very best parent ever to have children. But that’s not realistic. You are human. You will make mistakes. Don’t get too frustrated or upset. Everyone learns through experience..... From Triple P “positive parenting program”
